General Comments

Licensing Staff arrived at facility to perform a Monitoring Inspection. Upon arrival the infants were waking up from nap time. The Centre is bright, clean, and organized. The environment was calm, and the infants enjoyed interacting with the two Educators. One Educator sat with the infants and read several stories and sang songs. As the infants lost interest in stories, the other Educator played with puppets and in the play kitchen area with them. The Educators used gentle tones with the infants and were seen giving hugs and offering words of encouragement. "You almost put your shoe on all by yourself, great job".

The transition to afternoon snack was smooth. The infants helped the Educators put away the kitchen materials, books, and blocks. Hand washing was observed before the infants started their snack. The Educators sat with the infants, engaging in conversation, and discussing the weather as one little one observed the rain.

Daily attendance is being recorded and the infants' personal belongings were labelled and tidy. Family pictures, a birthday wall and current learning stories were observed throughout the classroom.
