General Comments
Children were excited for pajama day today and eager to talk with QA Monitor about the characters and colours of their pajamas. Throughout the learning environments, documentation webs highlighted the current interests being explored. How can you ensure that children's interests are represented in a variety of interest centres? Consider props, books, photos, invitations, etc. Positive child guidance was observed; the educator provided choice for the child to discourage negative behaviour. A balance of indoor and outdoor play occurred during monitoring inspection.
