General Comments

Just a few children arrive at first pickup and stay with one educator while the other educator joins the bus driver for school pickups. The first group engaged in a card game and some imaginative play including a game of hide and seek with the educator. The centre is set up with a large room for meals, games and just hanging out. There is a room with a large supply of Lego, a selection of board games, a kitchen, and a variety of art and writing materials. An additional space allows the children to play with an assortment of Barbies and a reading space with a bookshelf. The front entry includes all the pegs for the children's belongings including an All about Me form filled out by each child to signify their space.

As soon as the second group arrived and attendance was confirmed, children washed their hands and sat down for snack having a choice from today of yogurt, granola, and blueberries.

As the bus driver counts in the child-staff ratio for school pickups, their staff file is to be on location in the center's staff files.
