General Comments

During my unplanned morning visit, I observed that the staff-to-child ratio for the preschool age group was respected. No afterschool children were present. The following elements are observed during my visit:

- Verification of one new staff file and update of an existing staff member's information.
- Review of 10 files for 4-year-old children and signed consent forms.
- Review of 2025 incident reports documented in children's files, with signatures from both the educator and the parent.

Observation of snacks provided by parents and the departure for one preschooler, during which the educator took time to engage in a brief conversation with the parent.

Special activity: a Halloween-themed obstacle course organized for the two groups of 4-year-olds.
