General Comments

Children were participating in a variety of free play activities before getting ready for outdoor play time. The children played in the yard before going for a walk on the trail along the river. The children and operator stopped in the field and had races to the big tree and pick flowers. During the visit, positive child guidance and encouraging words were heard. The operator provides a nurturing, loving and caring environment for the children in her care. Child records were reviewed and contained the required documents.
