General Comments

Licensing Staff arrived to perform Monitoring Inspection and introduce new Quality Assurance Monitor. Upon arrival children were having their afternoon snack. As the children finished eating hand washing was observed. A few children went through the binders looking at pictures of their families, houses and friends. Educator was seen smiling and laughing with the children as they looked through the binder. Once snack was over, binders were put away and the Educator was seen cleaning the table. The children gathered around for a story, "Green Energy". The Educator interacted with the group throughout the story asking questions related to the book. "What can you see in the room that is green?" Educator read a Mother Goose book and incorporated singing to engage the children. Programming is evident throughout the rooms. Centre is bright, clean and has lots of wooden materials, loose parts and learning stories posted at the children's level. There are materials to encourage risky play such as a Nugget Couch and ladder and slide which the children enjoyed using.
