General Comments

The Operator has a large amount of early learning centres and accessories available to the children. These include but are not limited to dramatic play, books, farm animals, cars, art, and sensory. New shelving was purchased for the toys and materials making them very accessible to the children.

The children's work is displayed throughout the play space and the Operator has incorporated an art wall where you can see many pieces of the children's art. The Operator has also framed some of the children's pictures, validating the children's creativity.

The Operator documents the children's interests in a journal and plans activities based on what the children want to do. There was evidence of the children's activities in the form of photographs which are displayed throughout the facility.

Throughout the visit the operator was observed being completely engaged with the children. They would play and talk with the children and was respectful of their needs. The environment appears to be loving and caring.

All required documentation for licensing was easily verified. The operator keeps the files in an organized and complete manner.

Licensing staff can recommend facility for licensing.
