General Comments

Upon my arrival the children were leaving for the park, therefore, my observations regarding the interaction between the children and the educators were limited. That said, the educators were observed helping and encouraging the children while getting ready to go outside and providing positive reinforcement. The educators were also observed speaking to the children in a respectful manner.

The program is located in a gym; therefore, the children have a large space to play indoors, allowing for larger group activities indoors. There are materials in sufficient quantity and to meet the different interests of the children.

There is no order for compliance, I recommend for the renewal of the license.
