General Comments
A Monitoring Inspection was completed this afternoon. Children had a full day today, as there was no school. Children were finishing up their lunches, at QAM's arrival. Educators were observed sitting with the children, discussing holiday traditions. Today was "shopping day" at the center. Families had donated items, and children were able to complete their holiday shopping. Children were observed wrapping their presents this afternoon. The proceeds of today's shopping will be donated to a local animal organization. Several well-defined learning / play areas were observed - reading area, building area, arts & crafts, dramatic play, etc. Positive child guidance techniques were observed - educators sitting with the children, educators using positive language, and educators giving gentle reminders.
