General Comments

Licensing Staff arrived at Our Happy Place to conduct a Monitoring Inspection. The indoor environment was bright, welcoming, and well organized. Upon arrival, the Operator was sitting with the children as they prepared and enjoyed pretend soup. Each child had their own pot and wooden spoon. The children then decided to use a muffin tray to make pretend cupcakes. The Operator engaged in conversation with the children about the different flavors and which ones they wanted to choose.

Throughout the morning, the children freely explored a variety of play materials and activities. They appeared comfortable in their surroundings and interacted positively with the Operator, often giving hugs or sitting close by. Proper diaper changing procedures and handwashing practices were observed during the visit.

The children were later observed playing with plastic balls, passing them to one another and tossing them into a piece of fabric hung in the cozy area. The Operator asked the children if they would like to bring over the small, arcade-style basketball net. Building on this idea, other children began adding stuffed animals to the play area. The children were excited to show everyone their new ball pit for their stuffed animals.

Later in the morning, the Operator asked the children whether they would prefer to go for a walk around the neighborhood or play in the backyard. The children agreed that they wanted to go for a walk. Before leaving, the Operator asked each child whether they wanted to wear a hat and mittens or bring them along. During the walk, the group stopped frequently to look at leaves and admire Halloween decorations. Attendance records, first aid kit and water bottles were brought on the walk.

Throughout today's Monitoring Inspection, only positive child guidance was observed. The Operator was calm, patient, and nurturing in her interactions with the children. As a reminder, please ensure that fire drills are documented each time they are completed.
