General Comments

A monitoring inspection was conducted today on school age license.
Two staff files were reviewed and verified complete with all required documentation.
Mandatory attendance records and incident logs were reviewed and observed complete.
During the inspection, Inspector observed the children playing and engaged in activities in their outdoor classrooms. Children were observe playing in the mud kitchen, a game of hide and seek with their educator, running in the leaves, climbing trees, creating a Blue Jay poster as today as Blue Jay's Day at school.
The indoor environment, "The Cottage," was observed set up with materials and ready for the children to engage with should they decide to come inside.
The educators indicated that the children prefer playing outside, exploring the wooded and field areas adjacent to "the cottage."
Educators were observed engaged with the children in their learning and play. Positive child guidance techniques of redirection were also observed during the inspection. Educators were also observed helping the children problem solve when then found a tasks difficult.
