General Comments

The facility is clean and well organized. There are numerous learning stories posted throughout the room. Some titles of the learning stories are "Roller Coaster Ride", "Ice Block Painting", and "Foam Dough Monsters". The shelves and containers are properly labelled and easily accessible to the children. Children were observed in the outdoor play space spraying colored water on the snow and playing on the various stationary play structures. During afternoon snack time, one of the educators read a story while the children ate. The story was "Zen Shorts" by Jon J. Muth. After snack time the children were able to participate in some free play activities. The popular areas were dramatic play and the car mat. I recommend more open-ended play materials be added to the outdoor play area.
