General Comments

The Quality Assurance Monitor is on site for a monitoring inspection. During the inspection, the QA Mentor was able to observe the children's indoor and outdoor play experiences. The educator /operator was engaged and displayed positive child guidance. During small conflicts, the educator was providing guidance to the children to help them develop tools for conflict resolution. The educator/operator encouraged the children to use words to express themselves and to share their feeling with each other.

The children were observed having meaningful conversations with each other and with the educator/operator. Both collaborative play and individual play experiences were observed.

Some short cords were observed coming out of the siding in the outdoor play area. The educator/operator confirmed that there is nothing connected to them and that there is no charge coming from the cords. She has also shared that they will be getting rid of them as they plan to place an outdoor socket in that area.
