General Comments

Monitoring Inspection:

QA Monitor's first visit since facility opened. Monitoring Inspection focus - introduction to staff and to answer questions.

The children were observed engaged in conversation with the educator during story time. Documentation is displayed throughout the room that supports the children's current interests, experiences and learning.

Currently the children are watching a large pumpkin in a clear jar as it decomposes. Educators and children observe the changes and engage in conversation about this process. How will you document this process? What's next?

A variety of open-ended materials are set up in a way that is accessible, well organized and supports children's playful exploration.

Hand washing routines observed.

A healthy lunch was served.
