General Comments

A renewal inspection occurred today. The children were observed engaged in their learning environments exploring and investigating. Props/materials were displayed at children's level and can be independently accessed. Environments were "Inspiring" and were inviting of all the senses , including "can you build a campfire".

Children were observed having "bugs and dirt"(pudding) that reflected the learning topic "insects" that represented children's current interests.

Learning environments were set up and prepped for children in transition periods.

All staff files were observed and completed, as well as a random review of children's files were observed and complete.

All checks were complete.
