General Comments

On the morning of my monitoring visit, children enjoyed some free time and had snack before going outdoors to play.

The operator was engaged with the children and is attentive to their needs. She used opportunities of free play to build on their understanding of colours and numbers when the infant and preschoolers were building with blocks. The indoor play space has been rearranged and this opens the space up a lot. The operator continues to look for ways to use the space in the best way to meet the needs and interests of her group of children. The outdoor space is inviting and there are multiple spaces for play. There are small little tyke structures, a mud kitchen and sand table, wooden stumps for balancing, and lots of natural shade in the morning.

The operator is planning on installing a fence to separate the yard from her family's personal space and this will be great to section off where her fire pit and BBQ are.

Proper procedures including paperwork are being followed for administering medication.

Child guidance practices were patient, calm, and nurturing. The operator asked for suggestions on managing different behaviours and she is continuing to display beautiful newsletters to communicate with families.
