General Comments

The children were enjoying water play and climbing this morning. There is a large selection of books throughout the space and the operator engaged in a read aloud before lunch. They were expressive, providing lots of time for children to comment on the illustrations and asking questions about what they saw. The children wanted to cuddle on the operator's lap and space was made for each child interested.

On today's visit, there were several opportunities to view the operator speaking calmly and kindly to children supporting them to express their emotions while respecting their peers. An emphasis was made on the importance of bodily autonomy for each child and respecting one another.

Children were aware of the routine for lunch and washed their hands with a gentle prompting question of whether they wanted to wash their selves or have some help.

A small table is set up in the kitchen so children and the operator can enjoy lunch together.

The cats made a visit to the play space but were relocated for lunch time.
