General Comments

The children were in the library today with the summer reading program. The library offers a program with a book and activity that the school-age attend each day. Children not interested in the activity of the day can color, read their own books, or play in the open area with cars, blocks, and games.

Children were given a reminder of transitioning back to the classroom for snack at 15 minutes prior and then asked to clean up before leaving.

Children grabbed their lunch bags off their pegs in the hall and then washed their hands for snack. After snack, the educator took the children outside with a wagon filled with resources. Each child put their own sunscreen on before heading out.

The playground is large and allows the children to engage in a variety of play. They had bug catchers and nets as they enjoy catching bugs and letting them go. The educator gave a reminder of a water break after being outside 45 minutes and encouraged each child to get a drink.

There was no fire drill completed in June so remember to complete one before the end of July.
