The educator was able to move this medication so that it was store safely, but was more easily accessible to educators in the event of an emergency.

General Comments
Regular monitoring inspection was performed on this date. Children were observed sitting for story time which they all participated in. One educator read to the children while the other educator prepared an art activity at the table for them. Following the story, the children were invited to sit at the table and stamp ballons in a paint colour of their choice and make prints on paper. Children then transitioned from art time to washing their hands and snack time. Educators were able to help children problem solve during snack time when wanting certain placemats and needing help opening their snacks. The children then transitioned to their outdoor play time. All transitions observed were smooth, short and the expectations placed on the children were developmentally appropriate. Please ensure that any life-threatening allergies are clearly posted in a prominent place, the current sign is sun faded. Positive behaviour guidance was observed at all times.
