General Comments A Monitoring Inspection was conducted this afternoon. Upon arrival, half of the school aged children were at the park, and the other half, were getting ready to head to the park. Today was a PD Day, and children didn't have school, therefore, they were at the facility all day. Attendance records for the far side of the room were observed and accurate. Educator stated that the children on her side of the room were presently interested in the woods, climbing trees, playing with army men, building with Lego, and coloring. Both sides of the room were observed. Several well-defined learning areas were observed on both sides - arts & crafts, building, reading, dramatic play, loose parts, and games & puzzles. The parent board was observed. Allergies, menu, daily schedule, past reports, contact information for licensing, and the evacuation plan and map were observed.
