General Comments

A renewal inspection occurred today. Various forms of invitations were set up, ready for children to transition within their open-ended learning environments. Children (as well as educators) were engaged in their learning environments, forming meaningful relationships. Areas were flexible and inclusive to accommodate children's emerging and current interests. Furnishings were child-size, comfortable and accessible. Items, including but not limited to "cubby's ,soothers ,bottles ,wash cloths etc", were clearly labelled making it easy to identify each child's personal belongings. Documentation was present within the classrooms that displayed open-ended art projects created and led by the children. Educators had purposely planned activities that took into account each child's strengths, interests and desires.

Many children were absent due to illness. Facility has done proper tracking and reporting to public health. All checks were complete. All staff and a random review of children's files were also verified and complete.
