General Comments
The children were playing in the play area this morning before snack. A parent was being contacted for a child's pickup due to illness. This was the second child that needed to be excluded today. A recommendation was made to provide an area of exclusion for children waiting for pickup due to sickness to keep exposure to other children minimal. Children helped clean up and the operator used the strategy of picking up all the green toys for some children as encouragement. A regular clean-up song that children become familiar with can sometimes help with cleaning up. New resources have been added to the play space and the closet area has been opened up to create a reading nook with a bookshelf of books and soft elements. Children washed their hands before snack and the table was cleaned prior to eating. Children are encouraged to open water bottles, food containers, and dress independently with a reminder that if they need help, they can ask. There was a discussion with the operator about remaining in the room when children are eating to ensure safety. When children are done, they could read a book or play until everyone is done. This ensures children can eat at their own pace without feeling rushed and allow the educator to remain with the children until everyone is done.
