General Comments

There were two groups of preschool children today. The smaller part-time group were going on a walk together and the larger preschool group was finishing up circle time where they were practicing letters on the whiteboard. The larger group joined the other licence in the playground space. The educators were very responsive to children, sitting with them to talk and problem solve. The operator and quality assurance monitor discussed the need for an additional playground space for this licence which the operator has been inquiring about trying to determine the best location.
