General Comments

The home has been updated with new steps at the front and back door and the front door was being replaced today. The area was blocked off by a gate so the children could watch the repairs but not get in the way. The operator took the children outside for most of the morning while the door was being replaced.

The outdoor area is set up with a variety of resources for the children to play. The old pool pad has gravel and now some bricks painted as a road for the children to drive cars on or balance as one child was doing today. The children also liked to challenge themselves balancing on the tires. There was some standing water in the tires but needed some movement to drain through the drilled holes.

The operator was observed responding to the children quickly, redirecting when needed and engaging in play. The space is large and allows the children lots of independence and variety.

The first aid kit was brought outside in a book bag and there was a discussion on the new first aid kit list. The operator asked some questions about her renewal in the new year and noted she is working on her PL hours.
