General Comments

Children were eating afternoon snack when licensing staff arrived. An alternate was present today with the children and their staff file was reviewed with all items in order. The alternate ensured attendance records and required forms were being kept up to date. With a new baby in the home, alternates have been stepping in to provide care for the licensed service when the operator has appointments or needs additional support. Resources are accessible within the main living space for children. Children were excited to head outside for play after snack. Licensing staff will visit again in the coming months when the operator is present and to offer support.
