General Comments
The Quality Assurance Monitor is on-site to conduct the renewal inspection. The Quality Assurance Monitor is present during outdoor play, lunch, and indoor play periods. Children are engaged in a variety of activities, including playing with playdough, completing puzzles, building with blocks, and participating in imaginative play with dinosaurs. A discussion takes place with the operator regarding a structure located in the school-age outdoor play area. The operator indicates that they are unaware that a section of wood on the structure is damaged and states that the structure will be reviewed. During the visit, the ratio is respected.
