General Comments

Children were having snack this morning and then indoor play while everyone finished. The operator ensured everyone visited the washroom for diaper changes, using the potty, and hand washing after snack. The operator played a familiar clean-up song for the children to clean up before heading outside.

The outdoor play space allows the children to have lots of independence and space to explore. A rain barrel and water tap are accessible for children and they can independently get water when they choose. There is a small house with a slide for children to play and shovels, pails and rakes for digging. The operator kept her eyes on the children at all times and expressed some plans to create a fenced area across the driveway.

The operator spoke respectfully to the children and redirected when needed. She provided comfort when children appeared to need it or requested. One child fell pushing a dump truck and she quickly attended to them by holding them until they felt better and putting a band-aid on.

Documentation was posted in the home from inside and outside play with the date, connections to the curriculum and each child individually and group represented.
