General Comments A Monitoring Inspection occurred on February 21, 2025. During the visit, children were observed during snack time as well as during indoor and outdoor play. Proper handwashing procedures were followed during snack time, ensuring good hygiene practices. Educators shared that the children are currently very interested in creating plasticine figures inspired by the work of Barbara Reid, engaging in Lego building, and being active outdoors while building an ice fort. Throughout the inspection, educators were observed using positive language and giving gentle reminders, fostering a supportive and encouraging environment. Outdoors, educators played an active role in the children's activities, participating and engaging with the children to enhance their play experiences. The facility maintained a daily incident log and displayed the license, current inspection report, current monitoring reports, and any orders for compliance in a clearly visible and prominent location. Each room had the daily routine posted, and evacuation procedures were located in a prominent area for quick reference. Life-threatening allergies were also clearly posted to ensure the safety of all children. Books available at the facility reflected the children's current interests, and children's artwork was displayed at eye level, with each piece labeled with the child's name and date. The facility offered a varied supply of appropriate equipment, materials, books, and toys, providing a stimulating and enriching environment. Toxic products, including chemical cleaners, were securely locked and inaccessible to the children, ensuring a safe environment. Drinking water was readily available throughout the day. The curriculum provided opportunities for children to express creativity, explore the arts and sciences, experience a sense of accomplishment, problem-solve, and develop trusting, respectful, and supportive relationships.
