General Comments Children were observed transitioning indoors from the outdoor playground area. Upon entering the classroom, they washed their hands and sat down for a planned cooking activity. Children participated in making personal pizzas, demonstrating engagement and positive social interactions with their peers. The learning environment was well-organized and contained a sufficient variety of materials and activities to support children's interests, learning, and development. Educators shared that the program has been offering a variety of summer activities and experiences, including movie days, beach-themed days, and visits to the splash pad. The parent information board was reviewed and found to be current; however, the QAM contact information requires updating. Educators were also reminded that a fire drill is due and should be completed and documented in accordance with licensing requirements. Update the parent information board with the current QAM contact information. Complete and document the outstanding fire drill.
