General Comments Monitoring Inspection: Children and their educator were observed engaged in art and building with a variety of building materials this morning. The educator was observed engaging in meaningful conversations with the children about mixing colours and exploring how primary colours can be combined to create new colours. The indoor play area appears to be well maintained and organized. There are a variety of materials accessible to the children throughout each interest centre. Children currently enjoy neighbourhood walks to the Free Little Library, where they borrow books to read and explore with their peers and educator. Handwashing routines were observed. Monthly fire drills are documented. Daily attendance records are accurate and reflect all children present. Child-to-staff ratio was observed to be met during Monitoring Inspection.
