General Comments Upon licensing staff's arrival for the renewal inspection, children were engaged in play in the indoor play area. They were observed participating in a variety of activities, including playing with Lego, blocks, the play kitchen, dolls, and the sensory table. The educator provided a four-minute warning to support the transition from free play to group time. Children then gathered on the mats, where the educator read a story. The educator demonstrated engagement throughout the reading and used prompting questions to encourage participation and discussion among the group. The story aligned with the science week theme and focused on themes related to water and animals. Following story time, the group participated in a science experiment using Skittles and paper. The educator instructed the children to arrange Skittles around the edge of a plate and then pour water onto the plate. As the water was added, the colors began to bleed, creating a visual pattern. Children were then given the option to place a sheet of paper onto the design to capture the effect. The group had made sun drawings earlier in the day. It was time for snack, so the group went to wash their hands and eat at the table. Staff and child files were verified and found to be in order. Throughout the inspection, only positive child guidance was observed. Licensing staff recommends the program for renewal.
