General Comments
Children and Educators were observed engaged in free play and group activities in the indoor and outdoor play environments during today's monitoring inspection. Educators engaged with children at their level, participating as play partners, and asking open-ended and why questions during conversations. Projects posted highlight current topics of interest that children are exploring and materials available demonstrate that educators have purposefully planned the environment to support the interest and expand children's knowledge. Photos and learning stories also provide opportunities for children to see themselves in their play space and revisit past experiences. As discussed, painting of trim in areas throughout the centre should be planned in preparation for renewal inspection.
