General Comments
Monitoring Inspection: Children and educators observed engaged in a variety of activities this morning/afternoon including building experiences, open-ended art, dramatic play, stories, tabletop activities, sensory opportunities and outdoor play. Each learning environment is well-maintained and set up with a variety of materials for children to explore freely. Preschool children were given the opportunity to vote for their morning outing today by marking their name on a whiteboard under a list of neighbourhood places. The infants were observed during lunchtime routines; educators supported the children in eating and encouraged independence when possible. Purposeful planning is evident through documentation, invitations and materials added to the environments that support the children's current interests (nature, bugs, babies, leaves, cars, cutting, and firefighters). Each group has an ongoing project documented with learning experiences and photos of the children. QA Monitor discussed choking hazards with educators and administrator as some small items were within reach of children under two. Items like pom poms and acorns can be used under direct supervision however they must be stored out of reach. QA Monitor reviewed the transition of children into the Two-Year-Old Room and confirmed that all infants must have reached their second birthday before being moved to this room. An inspection of the outdoor play area was conducted today. A variety of materials for both gross motor activities and quieter play were accessible to children, supporting a balance of active and calm play during outdoor play. repaired.

Beef, vegetable and rice soup with crackers was served for lunch. A change to the weekly menu was posted on the Parent Board as a special lunch of pot pies are going to be served to celebrate Thanksgiving at the end of the week.

Handwashing routines were observed after outdoor play, before mealtimes, during washroom and diapering routines. Diaper changing procedures were observed to be followed.

Monthly fire drills are documented.

Daily attendance records are accurate and reflect all children present within the preschool rooms. Child-to-staff ratio was observed to be met in all rooms during Monitoring Inspection.

New staff file (2) review and random review of staff files was completed. One staff member has an expired First Aid certificate; enrollment was confirmed during inspection. One staff member has an expired Criminal Record Check and Social Development Check; documents have been submitted to obtain new checks. Ensure both staff are not left alone with children until documents are obtained. Ensure these checks and qualifications are obtained by expiry date moving forward.

Facility is currently meeting the 50% trained Early Childhood Educators (7/8) requirement.
