General Comments Environment set up with a variety of invitations for children to explore and create with upon arrival. Documentation posted throughout the environment highlights children's current interests and activities. The spring Garden the children created looked great! Children also created their own life-size snakes and ladders game using a shower curtain and are interested in making other games like checkers. Lots of great conversation with and between children observed. Educators have created a very engaging environment for the children. Children's ideas are welcomed and children have opportunities to have ownership over their learning environment- during today's monitoring inspection, materials were made available to decorate their spring tree. Children observed working together and supporting each other's ideas.
