General Comments
The children's learning environment was set up with invitations for play prior to their arrival. The large room has been divided into two sections to accommodate two bubble groupings. The children were observed to be familiar with the routine for handwashing upon arrival. Documentation throughout the facility demonstrates a variety of activities and project work that the children have participated in. The children are provided with many opportunities to plan, explore, create and engage in experimental activities with one another. Once in their bubble groups, the children enjoyed creating their own unique puzzles using large popsicle sticks, playing cards, drawing with chalk/markers, playing Connect 4, and so on. There was a hum in the room with conversations taking place amongst the children and their educators. The toys and materials in the interest centers are well organized and clean.
