General Comments

A Monitoring Inspection was completed this afternoon. Children were observed during free play and snack time. Several different learning / play invitations were observed throughout the facility. Tables were set up with art and craft materials, board games, and building materials. An area for dramatic play was observed and it included a play kitchen with food, dress up clothing with pieces of actual materials such as shoes, and purses, and an area for babies. A group of children were observed playing hockey at one end of the large room. The hockey players were observed playing hockey, laughing, and being good sports. An educator was observed using a drill and showing the children how to make a homemade version of the game Kerplunk. Children were very interested in this, and they were observed asking several questions along the way. Once Kerplunk was made, children were observed playing Kerplunk with their friends. Children were also observed playing cards, drawing, and playing Jenga. Several forms of documentation were observed throughout the facility, and a binder of past activities was also observed. Positive Child Guidance techniques were observed - educators freely talking to the children, asking them about their school day and their interests. Educators were observed using positive language when interacting with the children, educators were observed preparing the children for transitions, and educators ensured that there was a good balance of activities in the program content.
