General Comments A renewal inspection occurred today. The children were observed during both inside and outside play. Each of the licensed rooms were set up with a variety of materials for the children to interact and engage with. This week is "Survivor Week" and the children were observed in a game of "keeping the egg from breaking". Each group had to design and create something to keep an egg from breaking when dropped from different heights. Educators were observed actively engaged with the children in their learning and play. Respectful and meaningful conversation and interactions were observed during the inspection.
