General Comments

A Monitoring Inspection occurred June 20, 2024, in the afternoon.

During indoor free play, children were observed engaging with various activities. Educators noted that the children are currently very interested in construction vehicles, a fascination sparked by watching road construction through the window. The children were seen playing with building materials, singing and dancing as a group, and writing letters to friends in anticipation of the end of summer. Educators were observed using positive language and providing gentle reminders to guide the children.

The facility has a well-defined structure, with the daily routine posted in each room and the weekly menu, including substitutions, displayed for reference. Parents and children are greeted enthusiastically upon arrival. The learning and play areas are clearly defined, and children's artwork is prominently displayed throughout the facility. A sensory area is well-stocked with lentils, scoops, and other materials, along with accessories that are regularly rotated. The outdoor stationary equipment is surrounded by protective surfacing of appropriate depth to ensure safety.

The curriculum is thoughtfully planned and documented daily within the program. Children participate in completing their portfolios, which are accessible to them. Various forms of documentation are evident throughout the facility, reflecting the structured and child-centered approach to learning.
