General Comments
A renewal inspection occurred today. Inspector observed the children during inside play only due to the inclement weather. Upon arrival to the centre the Inspector observed the children signing up with their educators as to what activities they wished to participate in. Some children chose to go to the gym to play games while others were able to remain in the indoor play area where defined interests' centres were observed. Inspector observed in the indoor play area an art centre, where children were able to choose what they wished to create, but also masks were available if they wanted to make those. The children were observed playing with the Barbie house and accessories. A games centre was observed with board and dice games. Children were also observed playing in the dramatic play area where a farm was set up with animals, people and machinery/trucks. Inspector observed the children playing in the sand table with trucks and buildings. In the gym, the children were observed by the Inspector playing a game of freeze dance. The educator indicated that the children like to play "banana split tag", crocodile and kangaroos, skeleton relay race and graveyard. Educators were observed by the Inspector conducting frequent head counts to ensure that all children in their care were accounted for and ratio was being maintained. Educators were observed by the Inspector, getting down to the level of the children when speaking to them, using positive child guidance techniques and actively engaged with them in their learning and play.
