General Comments

Ratio was respected during the monitoring visit.
At the time of the visit, QA monitor observed indoor play time and snack. She was able to observe a group making bracelets, accompanied by the educator and a group of kids decorating for halloween.

The name and telephone number of QA Monitor and inspector posted in the facility were not updated. The QA monitor gave her business card and the inspector's business card to the administrator on site so she can post the changes in the facility.
