General Comments
The Operator is using several planning tools to document her observations of the children's interests and make plans to introduce materials/areas of interest to the group of children. Some of the ideas highlighted in the planning binder have been introduced into the playroom such as chestnuts they found on a walk are now in the sensory bin and an art project to create scarecrows this morning is linked to the children noticing seasonal decorations on their walks. Observed outdoor play, the children had the opportunity to dig in the garden and they giggled and told the QA Monitor "we like worms!".
