General Comments
On the day of my visit the center was functioning well. The educators throughout the center were communicating and working together as team. As I visited each room there was evidence of planned programming for the week and documented learning stories were on the walls, both in the classrooms and in the hallways. There was a wide range of activities happening in each room. In the 3 year old room there was an assortment of art making supplies on the table which some of the children were enjoying. Other children were playing with blocks and the play kitchen. In the 4 year old room some children were finishing up there crafts and preparing for outdoor play time. In the 2 year old room the theme of the week was "Music" the children showed me the musical instruments they had made the day before. They were having a great time in the dramatic play area cooking pizza and cookies. The educators were engaged with the children in all class rooms.
