General Comments

As children were arriving the operator meet the children and parents at the door. The operator had a quick conversation with the parent about the child.

During arrival time, the children were engaged in free play activities. The children were observed playing in the kitchen, with the plastic animals, barbies, looking at books and building a bridge with the large blocks as the floor had become lava.

After free play time the children cleaned up the room for circle time. They sang the good morning song and talked about the weather and played "I spy" and "little mouse where are you"

After circle time the children prepared for snack time.

After snack time the children went back to playing the lava game, building a bridge to get away from the Lava. The operator offers a welcoming environment and interacts with the children in a caring manner.
