General Comments When licensing staff arrived, both groups were in their classrooms finishing up morning activities and snacks. There is a variety of resources accessible throughout each space so children can independently choose. Daily activities are prepared and offered to children throughout the day. During transitions, educators confirm attendance of each child as well as regular 15-minute checks. Educators encourage children to visit the washroom before going outside. Educators moved around the outdoor play area while children were at play engaging in conversations, responding to questions and requests for help.
