General Comments When I arrived all 3 groups were outside in separate play areas. The younger two groups are very interested in caterpillars and insects. The children were catching them and putting them in jars or letting them crawl on their hands. One group was allowed to go into the trees a bit, with supervision, to explore for more insects in the ground on the trees. The older children had a group playing hockey while some of the other children played on the spinning machine or looking for insects. The educators were engaged with the children's activities. I also witness the children getting a couple scrapes in which the educators promptly cleaned the wound and applied a bandaid. The program seemed to be running smoothly during my visit.
