General Comments This was my first visit to Victoria Street Adventureland. I was greeted by the operator and given a tour and introduced to the staff. The environments are very warm and the centre has a home-like atmosphere. There is an abundance of different resources and materials thoughtfully set up on low, open shelving and in centres that are inviting for the children. I saw numerous examples of the children's learning displayed on the walls. I saw webs, their words documented on chart paper, art work, and communication folders. I observed the morning outdoor play and educators were engaged with children. There was a picnic table set up with paper and mark-making materials and books to read. Educators were pretending to be silly robots. The children really enjoyed this and the educators understand the importance of being silly with the children and being a part of their imaginative play. I took note of a lot of positive guidance and rich conversation between the educators and children. Educators were observed reading to children, providing assistance with handwashing and meal time, and consistently interacting with the children in a kind and nurturing way. All current Covid protocols are in place and being followed.
