General Comments Children were playing in the outdoor play space when licensing staff arrived. Educators had children dressed warmly with mitts and hats. Educators were engaged with children. One educator was observed playing "Simon Says" and invited any child who wanted to play along to join. Another educator was observed walking around holding a child's hand who is new to the centre and transitioning. Before lunch, the two-year-olds were playing with tabletop toys and the educator had music playing and was heard singing along with the children. The three-year-olds listened to a story read by the director. Educators and the director worked together to accomplish tasks- having children wash hands, getting diapers changed and heating up lunches.
