General Comments
On the day of my visit the afterschool program was divided into three groups however the children spent a portion of this time in children's choice where they choose what they would like to do in different groups. Today there were 3 choices and there can be more depending on the amount of extra staff. The children played outside games or outside Art, the Craft room had Holiday open ended Art and the third choice was gym games in the gym. Amanda and I reviewed the administrative paperwork and it is all organized and up to date.
