General Comments

Upon arrival, I was screened and I observed that staff at the center are following all COVID guidelines. Their process for ensuring the safety of the children and adhering to the guidelines appears to run very smoothly. During my visit I observed that each classroom takes turns to go outside and they each get sufficient outdoor time. The classrooms all have lots of materials and activities for the children, and materials were easily accessible to the children.

The educators in each classroom do daily program planning for the children. They observe the children's interests and build upon them each day. They are demonstrating good use of emergent curriculum, which is in line with the NB Curriculum Framework.
