General Comments
Licensing staff arrived in the morning to conduct a follow up renewal inspection. All the classrooms were visited and ratios were correct. The infant room was exploring an activity with trucks that included mark making with large sized crayons, pictures of trucks to colour and plain paper for drawing as well. They were also pretending to drive with pretend steering wheels, driving small sized trucks and cars around the room and listening to children's music on the same theme. The 2-year-olds went on an outing to Wal Mart to buy groceries to donate to the community fridge at the Fredericton Public Library. They took the city bus and added extra staff for help with this field trip. The 3-year-olds were having a very active circle time with action songs that involved dancing and pretending to be fish and bunnies etc. They transitioned to a variety of tabletop activities that include washing truck sprinkled with cocoa in soapy water. The 4-year-olds were engaged in a variety of different play at different learning invitations set up around the room. They made forts, played with Pokémon cards, lego and building, drawing and creating a book etc. The children shared their portfolios with me where their learning stories and artwork are collected. All compliances are being met, and the follow up inspection is complete. The center is now recommended for licensing.
